“The Bullet Train to Authentic Asian Flavor”

Chef Myron worked as a spy for the US government (NSA) in Yokohama Japan in the early '60s. Living there he developed a deep love and understanding of Asian foods. Clandestinely watching the chefs in their kitchens, he was able to figure out how they made their sauces and how to recreate them. As the recipes are unwritten and passed from generation to generation, this was a great feat! His goal was to create authentic, but all natural, healthy and flavorful sauces that every chef could then use for their own recipes. He has succeeded and created an entire line of clean, versatile, and balanced sauces that amplify the flavor of your foods.
